

Advertising, Bollywood, music & cricket aplenty at Goafest 2023

CHRISTINA MONIZ
Goa, May 27

IS THE MEDIA agency as we know it dead? Well, it sounds harsh and a bit premature to sound the death knell but this indeed is the time to change. The traditional media agency must evolve into a growth partner for its clients. This is one of the key takeaways from this year's Goafest, arguably the most popular advertising festival in the country. The high point of the three-day event was the 54th edition of the ABBY Awards. This year also marked the second year of ABBY Awards' association with The One Show. Twohundred-and-thirty-nine medals were awarded this year. The awards honoured accomplishments across categories such as broadcasting, design, public relations, technology, cinema, and much more. Also part of the event were a series of seminars and panel discussions featuring Indian and global speakers and performers. Day one began with an insightful conversation on the future of creativity in a session moderated by Rohit Ohri, chairman and CEO at FCB

Ulka. Another compelling discussion on the first day was moderated by independent journalist Anuradha SenGupta, with panellists Hemant Malik, divisional chief executive, ITC's Foods Business, Rohit Kapoor, CEO, Swiggy, and Prabha Narasimhan, MD & CEO, Colgate-Palmolive India. They stressed the significance of brand love in ensuring deeper consumer connections. The second day was kicked off with performances by play-back singers Divya Kumar and Asees Kaur. Two discussions on data, one moderated by Rajdeep Sardesai of India Today Television and the other chaired by Vikram Sakhuja, group CEO of Madison Media & OOH, were also held. The panellists talked about the importance of customer data platforms and real-time data. With influencer marketing gaining traction, Subhash Kamath, former CEO, BBH & Publicis Worldwide, India and former ASCI chairman moderated a knowledge panel on creators. The conversation underlined the power of creators coming together.

Nepal starts exporting electricity to India

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
Kathmandu, May 27

NEPAL HAS STARTED exporting electricity to India from Saturday, as the generation of hydroelectricity from run-of-the-river projects increased with the onset of the monsoon in the Himalayan country. Last year also, Nepal exported hydroelectricity to India from June to November. "We have started selling 600 MW hour electricity to India from Saturday as there is a surplus in the electricity in the country," said Suresh Bhattarai, spokesperson of Nepal Electricity Authority. Some time ago, Nepal was importing up to 400 MW electricity from India to meet the domestic demand. In Nepal the domestic demand for electricity increases in winter, while the supply decreases and in summer the demand decreases while the supply increases.
